Transforming Lives Through Art

STRENGTHENING OUR COMMUNITIES SINCE 1998

A non-profit organization reaching children through art education and hands-on experiences.

Who We Are

Founded in 1998, Art Sphere Inc. (ASI) is a non-profit organization in Philadelphia that engages the creative in communities, empowers neighborhoods, explores the positives in peoples' lives, and heals the mind, body and spirit through art.

By building partnerships with schools, recreation centers and social service organizations in underserved neighborhoods, we provide high-quality art instruction to build skills, introduce youth to new technologies in art making and increase literacy.

ASI nurtures the artist in all of us to be able to think beyond what is possible in our own lives and communities. Our students, volunteers and partners transcend obstacles to bring about lasting change, reflection and self-transformation that continuously enables thriving neighborhoods and a vibrant city.

What We Do

Free year-round art workshops in schools and recreation centers for youth 3-18 use art expression as a mechanism to weave in lessons on respect, tolerance, antibullying and health as well as help develop long-range skills for success.

Neighborhood clean-up events bring together youth and adults from all walks of life to beautify and restore public spaces, fostering pride in our communities.

We bring art to seniors, veterans and homeless populations who are dealing with issues such as suicide, anger, PTSD and depression.

Free art materials and education tools in our blog, worksheets and downloadable book "Creating Legacies Through Art," help teachers and parents access high quality lesson plans to educate children.

Why We Do It

More and more, communities across our region are stretched for creative public resources. Declining education funding has forced schools to cut art programs, while shrinking budgets prevent libraries and recreation centers from offering their own visual-arts programs.

ASI aims to fill the artistic void in these communities by fostering the visual arts and developing broader skills to help students thrive in all subjects.
