

Precious Gemstones

BRILLIANT

The New Year can be a time when we put a lot of pressure on ourselves to achieve new goals and start new resolutions. What if instead of measuring our weaknesses, we reflected on our strengths and positive qualities? Like the infinite variety and beauty of precious gemstones, we all offer something unique and brilliant to the world.

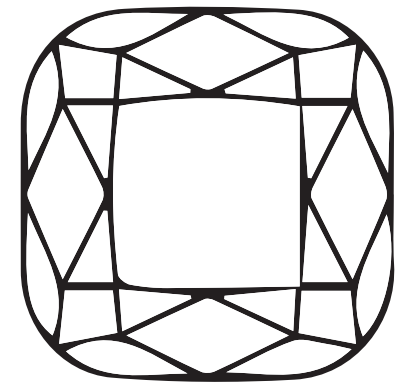

Below are several cuts of gemstones. As you color in the different stones, think about how each facet can represent a positive trait about yourself.
