

Beauford Delaney

Beauford Delaney was an abstract painter who did many works of the Harlem Renaissance. He uses lots of layers of paint with blues, greens, oranges, pinks and browns. In his portrait of James Baldwin he uses these colors to make James' face to stand out against the warm background.

Color "Portrait of James Baldwin" below and do you own colorful portrait on a separate piece of paper!

"Portrait of James Baldwin" 1944