

Balloon Coloring

Have a birthday or event coming up? Color the balloons, cut them out and tape string or yarn to the bottom! Then, hang them up!

The first rubber balloon was invented in 1824, which led to the invention the hot air balloon.

Be careful! When helium balloons are released into the sky, they end up polluting the Earth. Sometimes animals try to eat them or they become litter. Make sure that you don't let go of your balloons!
