

MaVynee Betsch

MaVynee Betsch, better known as The Beach Lady, was an environmentalist and black history educator. Born into wealth, Betsch gave away her entire fortune to environmental causes.

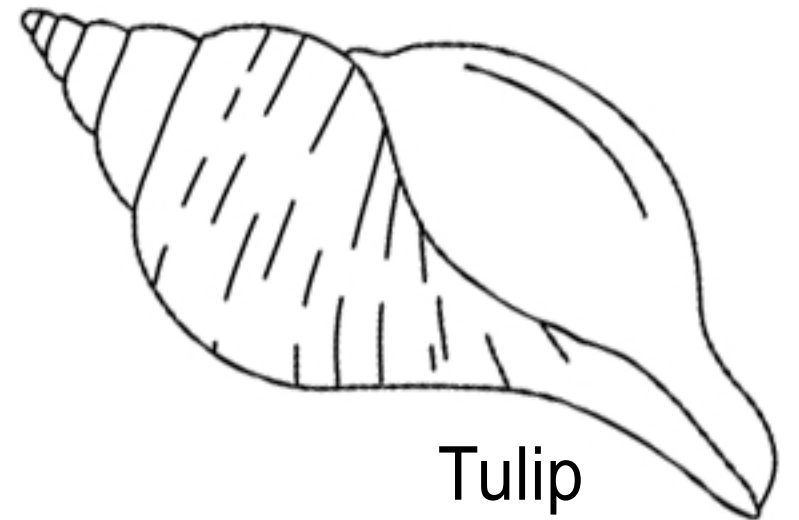

Betsch dedicated her life to the protection of American Beach, which is a historic beachside community in Florida.

Two documentaries have been made about her and the town American Beach.

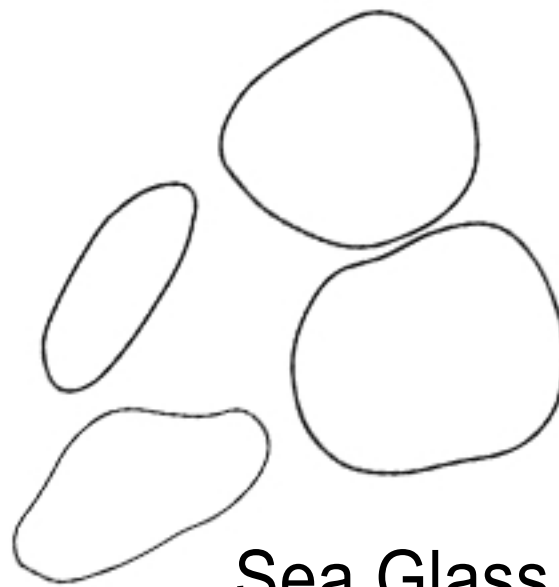

Beaches are currently at risk for things such as pollution and destruction by companies building beachside attractions.

Beaches are home to many creatures and ecosystems.
