

Design a Poster

A poster is a fun way to spread awareness about an issue! You can print them as small or large as you want and hang them up around town, give them to friends and family or sell them online and donate the profits to a good cause!

Follow the tips below to create an effective poster. Then, use the back of the paper to design your own!

1. It should be easy to see from a distance. Use large designs and font sizes to catch peoples' eye.
2. Pick a color scheme. If your poster is nature themed, try a color scheme with a lot of green. This makes your poster easier to understand.
3. Make a clear call to action. If the goal of your poster is to get people to donate to a cause, make sure that is clear to anyone reading the poster.
4. Make sure to include all of the information. If your poster is to advertise an event, make sure you include all relevant information such as date, time and location.
5. Have fun! Posters should catch the eye. Add relevent drawings or clipart to get people's interest.
