

World Turtle Day

Turtles are an important part of our ecosystem but they are constantly in danger of hurting themselves on the litter that humans leave on beaches! If you live near a beach look out for these pieces of garbage to help turtles preserve their habitat!

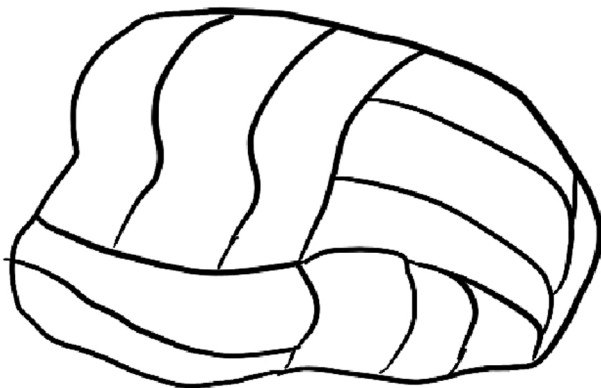

Turtles can suffocate from plastic bags!

Aluminum cans and plastic bottles could be mistaken as food for some turtles.

Smaller turtles can get stuck in things like nets and plastic wrappers.

Discarded items, such as volleyballs, pool floaties, and other things can pose a threat to turtles.
