

National Give Something Away Day

Now is a time to think about the special people in your life. Use the table below to brainstorm different gift ideas you can give to the special people around you. Think about your siblings, parents, friends, teachers, and even things like local fundraisers or charities that you can help out. Once you've filled out your table, try to make at least one of the gifts come true!
