

Isaac Julien

Isaac Julien is a filmmaker and artist from London, England whose work explores Black identity, sexuality, class, art history, and culture. In addition to his work as a documentarian, he creates multi-screen installations of unique film footage and photographs. Inspired by Julien's work, create your own three screen installation! What would you pair together to make a unique, immersive watching experience? Illustrate or write your ideas on the panels provided on the second page.

Sketch out your ideas for your own installation here!
