

About Art Sphere Inc.

Art Sphere Inc. is a non-profit, volunteer run, arts organization, which means ASI does not make any money for profit and volunteers work wanting to help. For over 23 years, ASI has been able to give free things for students and young adults to use in underfunded communities in Philadelphia.

What Does Art Sphere Do?

We engage the creativity in communities, empower neighborhoods, explore the positives in people's lives, and heal the mind, body and spirit through the arts.

Programs & Online Resources

ASI provides both online and in-person programs about many topics related to the arts. Learn more about our programs here at https://artsphere.org/interactive-programs/

- Online Classes

ASI classes and events are available online. ASI provides lessons like creative writing, art and music history, exploring different cultures, STEAM and literacy through art. View ASI's online class list here at http://artsphere.org/classes/

- In Person Art Workshops

You need to write here about on-site classes (given in neighborhood recreation centers, libraries and schools. How to access and sign up for these classes. Ages of kids. See grant applications for the text.

- Volunteer & Research-based Digital Projects

Martin Luther King Day of Service is an online research program that shows Dr. King and other people who creatively and artistically made a difference in their communities. View the inspirational leaders ASI volunteers collected at http://artsphere.org/mlk-day-of-service/

UPBEAT stands for Urban Pollution Busters & Environmental Activism with Teens. It shows the importance of environmentalism how to protect the environment. Read more about UPBEAT here at http://artsphere.org/upbeat/

Celebrate Diversity, Equality, and Inclusion (DEI) with ASI. DEI provides a collection of educational tools and resources to help encourage learning all about diversity, equality and inclusion. Follow the project at http://artsphere.org/dei-landing/

The States & Passport Project is a collection of country and state-based information. It also provides artistic projects organized through interactive maps online. View activities by state at http://artsphere.org/interactive-programs/states-map/ or explore different countries at http://artsphere.org/interactive-programs/world-passport/

- Curriculum & Activities Catalogue: <http://artsphere.org/curriculum/>

ASI provides a large collection of online art-based lesson plans and activities that can be done on your own. All of this is organized by subject, age and grade level. These materials can be used to build art-based educational programs, lessons at community centers and libraries, and for home learning.

Ways to Connect & Get Involved

Visit artsphere.org/get-involved to find out how to volunteer, intern, become a sponsor, donate directly to the organization or to our Art Box and Seeds for Philly Gardens fundraising campaigns! If this is for kids, then I would shorten it.
