

PUMA

Pumas are the fourth largest cat in the world! They can't roar, but can use whistles, screams, squeaks and purrs to communicate.

In Peruvian Quechua, Puma means 'powerful animal.'

Directions:

1. Fold paper in half like a book and cut along the outline.
2. Draw the fur and other details like eyes, nose, and whiskers.
3. Color and fold along the dotted lines so it can stand.
