

How to Design a T-shirt

The T-shirt should have your company color. The logo should stand out and be unique to your company.

The design of the shirt and logo should be easily described and easily recognizable. It does not have to be complex, but should be appealing to the eye.

Keep the material, color, how it will be made, and who will wear it in mind.

Sketch your design here!