

The Goblet Drum

The goblet drum is a small, handheld drum. It originates from Ancient Egypt and Mesopotamia. To play the drum, the musician holds it under their arm, or rests it on their leg. They make sounds by hitting and tapping the drum head with their hands and fingers.

